SENIOR SPOTLIGHTS

KARA BREDESON

Kara Bredeson is the daughter of Nichole Bredeson, Lee Martin & Tom Schultz. She's been dancing since she was just three years old, and joined Main Pointe her Kindergarten year. Fourteen years later, this studio has become her second home, filled with memories, growth and love. She wouldn't trade a single second of it. Kara will be attending Ridgewater's Veterinary Technology program. Over the years, Kara has made countless memories at the studio, but her favorite is picking fights with Mady and Reese – even if it annoys the other girls. She would like to thank her parents for always being there to support and love her no matter what. She would also like to thank Naomi who has become an active part in her life. She's incredibly grateful to all the girls she's come to know and cherish throughout the years.

MADY JOHNSON

Mady Johnson is the daughter of Mark and Kristin Johnson. She plans to attend South Dakota State University and major in Animal Science. Mady has been dancing since she was four years old, starting at a studio in Northwest Iowa. She was part of the YDC competitive team until she moved to Minnesota in 2020. That fall, she joined Main Pointe and the Willmar Cardettes Dance Team and her last five years have been nothing short of amazing. From taking her own classes to helping teach younger dancers, the memories and friendships she has made at the studio will last a lifetime. Her favorite memories include choreographing and competing a duet with Emery last year and all the times Kara, Reese and her would be goofing around in class when they were supposed to be paying attention. To her parents, thank you for your endless love and support throughout her entire dance journey. Whether it was driving her from practice to practice or cheering her on in the audience, you have always believed in her. You instilled in her a sense of grit and determination that has shaped who she is today, both as a dancer and person. To all the friendships she has made, thank you for always being there. Dancing with all of you has brought her so much joy, and it has been a true honor to share the stage with each of you. And to Naomi, thank you for always pushing me to be not only a better dancer, but a better person. You've created a space that feels like home for so many of us. This studio and the people in it have truly become her family, and saying goodbye is one of the hardest things she's ever had to do. She will miss this more than words can say.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHTS

RENAE LEVESQUE

Renae Levesque is the daughter of Sean and Kay Levesque. Having already completed her college Associate's Degree, Renae is excited to take on her next step by attending Ridgewater's cosmetology program.

Her love for movement and expression began in elementary school, where she started dancing and blossomed through the many roles she's taken on in various theatre productions. Renae has spent the last five years at Main Pointe, starting in the Beginning Modern class in 8th grade and progressing through Advanced Modern from 9th-12th grade. Her favorite studio memory is being backstage, getting to watch every solo up close and the thrill of competing for the very first time. She is incredibly grateful to her parents, Sean & Kay, for their unwavering support, constant encouragement and for showing up to every dance-related performance. She also gives thanks to God for blessing her with the ability to dance and the opportunity to praise Him through every movement. A heartfelt thank you goes out to Naomi for sharing her passion and for the love she pours into every dancer. To the younger dancers, Renae says: "Never stop dancing. This is such a special studio, and you are all such beautiful dancers. I hope to see you in many more recitals to come."

AFTYN MCGILLIVRAY

Aftyn McGillivray is the daughter of Josh and Mandi McGillivray. Her plans are to move to Asheville, North Carolina this summer to see what life has to offer, and hopefully someday soon, open her own bakery. When she was four, she started dance at Colleen's School of Dance. She switched to Main Pointe in 1st grade. She took a few years off after 6th grade and came back her Sophomore year. Her favorite class at the studio is Tap. Her favorite dance memory has been all the laughter they share when goofing off at competitions or in class. My advice to the younger dancers is to get out of the comfortable and push for the uncomfortable – like trying new classes or pushing yourselves harder in class. Thank you Naomi for always pushing me and always encouraging me every day. Naomi has been such an incredible role model and she cannot thank her enough.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHTS

KYLEE STRUCK

Kylee Struck is the daughter of Eric and Naomi Struck. After graduation, she plans to attend Ridgewater College and major in Nursing. She has been dancing with Main Pointe since she was three years old. Her favorite studio memory is each year when they get to see their costumes and years their recital songs for the first time. She would like to thank her parents for the continuous love and support that they have shown her throughout her dance and school career. To all the younger dancers at the studio, soak in and enjoy every moment and continue to shine.

MAYA TURRUBIATES

Maya Turrubiates is the daughter of Ilene Jimenez. She plans to attend Washington State University and is undecided for her major. She danced at Colleen's School of Dance for 8 years and has danced with Main Pointe the last 4 years. Her favorite dance memory would be last years modern dance performance on the second day of the recital. "We went out there and everything just clicked." My advice to the younger dancers would be to enjoy it. Go out into every performance and just have fun.
