

The background of the entire advertisement is a photograph taken from inside a dark exhibition space. In the center, a large, curved section of a ship's hull is visible, painted in dark blue with a yellow stripe and the word 'HAMBURG' in yellow capital letters. Several people are standing on a walkway above the hull. In the foreground, the silhouettes of a crowd of people are visible, some holding up their phones to take pictures. The lighting is dramatic, with blue and yellow highlights from the ship's colors and some out-of-focus lights in the background.
